

Dear Future Crusader,

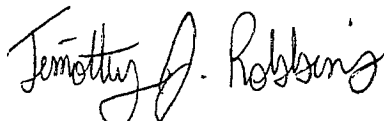

My name is Timothy Robbins and I am a junior at Bishop McDevitt. When you hear Bishop McDevitt, you should think of a family, because that is what we are. High school has repeatedly taught me many lessons, one of the most important being time management. I am actively involved in Pro-Life, Quiz Bowl, Model U.N., Student Council, Contra Mundum, and Marching Band. These are only a few of the activities I participate in.

Although there are many clubs and groups at McDevitt, there is a strong environment for academic achievement. I am taking all honors classes, except for Chemistry, which is an advanced placement course. AP Chemistry II is extremely challenging and out of all my other classes, it demands the most time. I am ranked 22 in a class of about 170 and I am currently maintaining a 4.2 GPA, which stands for grade point average. Bishop McDevitt provides a perfect atmosphere for learning and testing each individual's ability to excel. Even if academics are not your forte, the faculty is always willing to help you attain your goals; believe it or not, they want to see you succeed.

Unlike other schools, Bishop McDevitt has the unique attribute of being able to devoutly express Catholicism. Our faith is the single most important thing. If you were to go to any other school, you would not be able to pray before every class, celebrate Holy Days of Obligations and certain Solemnities, and to have access to a chapel. I believe that the chapel is the best classroom we have, because you are able to sit down one on one with the Teacher. In addition, we have our own personal chaplain Father Yohe. Father Yohe comes every Thursday during the day to hear confession, but he is also available to talk to. However, Father Acri is a retired priest who gives up his time to come to McDevitt every Thursday morning to celebrate Mass with whoever wants to come. Every day that I come to school my knowledge is expanded and my faith is enriched.

Bishop McDevitt was the best choice I have ever made in respect to my education. It is a superb institution that, if given the chance, will enhance your faith, morals, and intellect as it has done for me. I guarantee that choosing to come to McDevitt is a choice you will never regret. Some say that these years are the best years of one's life, and I honestly cannot imagine spending them at any other school besides Bishop McDevitt High School. As you begin to consider what high school you would like to attend, keep McDevitt as a viable option; you are the next legendary crusader.

Yours truly,
